On the Quiet Side

Long will be remembered the delightful strolls, Roundup picnics, spikes on the cement as the boys rush to track and the thrill of seeing the flag wave proudly over the campus of G. F. H. S.—truly, the most beautiful campus in the Northwest.

Alma Mater

CYRIL H. HANCOCK
Principal

With the inauguration of the new communication system in the high school, Mr. Hancock, school principal and the voice behind the little green box, has become more closely allied with student affairs and activities. His easy-to-get-along-with manner and consideration to the proposals of the student government organizations has been indicative of his forward-looking views.

ROBERT B. FARNSWORTH
Superintendent

Completing his fifth year of successful school management, Mr. Robert B. Farnsworth, with his friendly, progressive leadership, has won the hearts of students, faculty and local citizens throughout his stay here. An extensive building program to accommodate the increase in Great Falls' population, higher teacher salaries, specialized educational programs with a revised report card system in operation in the elementary schools have been promoted by his guidance and leadership.

EDMUND T. ANDERSON
Vice Principal

As head of the school's testing system, director of educational guidance, and chief disciplinarian, Mr. Anderson still finds time to successfully interest leading educational institutions throughout the country in offering scholarships to our worthiest graduating seniors. Through his quick and provocative decisions he has won the cooperation and happy fellowship of students and faculty.

CATHERINE M. RATHMAN
Girl's Personnel Director

One who has endeared herself to many students during her years of teaching here is the new "Dean." In her new post she hopes to guide girls of the school in attaining a happy, self-disciplined and well-adjusted life in the home and community.

SCHOOL HEALTH DEPARTMENT

The health program of the high school is designed to keep permanent health records and to promote good health habits for future adulthood through physical examinations made by Dr. V. H. Gibson, city-county health officer; Miss Elizabeth Havenen, high school nurse; and assisted by Mrs. Hartman. These medical experts alert students and parents to proper health rules in their four years here so that upon graduating they know how to keep fit.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Receiving the greater share of the attention of the Board this year has been the additions to the high school athletic field—the new stadium, football practice field, new tax levies to maintain teacher salaries, and the extensive building program throughout the city. Representing some of the most successful citizens and professionals in the city, the members are elected for a term of three years and accept the responsibility of providing the best educational opportunities for Great Falls children.

REPRESENTATIVES

Cafe Don Cummings

The student representatives (one from each advisory) meet to discuss school problems and bring the likes and dislikes of the students to the attention of the faculty and officers. They take charge of organizing committees for Roundup floats, flag raising, etc. In short, htey are the voice of the students, who see to it that everyone has a say in the school government.

Boys' & Gals' All-Staters

Chosen for their abilities in leadership and citizenship, 16 G. F. H. S. Juniors attended Girls' and Boys' State the summer of 1950. Dillon, the campsite of Boys' State, welcomed boys from Montana high schools, and Billings Rocky Mountain College held out open arms for Montana gals. Lots of fun was had and procedures in government know-how was brought back by the Staters.

It's hail and farewell as the class of '51 leaves the halls of G.F.H.S. for the last time and looks back unbelievingly to the days when they were green, fun-loving freshmen. Recalling all the memories of the past four years, they will never forget climbing the Big Hill to whitewash the GF; the Junior Prom; and a tough job, well done, on the Senior Ball. They will always remember the State Basketball Tournament held in '51, when the mighty Bisons captured second place. The class assemblies and the Senior Play will also take their places in the fond memories of the Class of '51, and they will remember with pride the athletic and scholastic honors they have left for posterity to cherish.

Class Will

We of the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-One reminisce that the peculiar treasures we bequeath to you were born within these hallowed walls, which, let it be said, have become a social center, a playground, and a second home to us. We danced, flirted, played ball here; learned to think and speak our minds; learned a sense of humor and fair play; learned, in the best sense of the word, freedom of thought and conduct. We hope you, too, find our gifts a part of your treasured memories.

Carol Baker wills her size 10's to Susan Hodges in case she grows a bit.

Nancy Campbell and Carvell Hall are giving up their eye-lash curlers to Bruce Ensley and Gary Matthews.

Prim Challenger leaves all her books to anyone who cares to try for a diploma.

Ted Cogswell wills his Iniwa column to Scott Farmer in hopes that he'll find a new joke.

Bobbe Cooke leaves her ride to school every morning to Jean Magee, who will be walking if she doesn't.

Mary Cummings leaves her hearty laugh to Darlene Forzley.

Dick Dallas leaves his Toni to George Massas, hoping he'll take good care of it.

Nick Darling leaves his car to anyone who plans to go into the wrecking business.

Bobbie Davey leaves her ability to stay out of trouble to Tessie Hanneman.

Jerry Dennis leaves his Model A to any good mechanic who can make it run.

John Dundas leaves his mastery over the Hodges household to Kenny Bofto.

Elmer Feldman leaves all the salt shakers and pins to Miss Moore.

Roslyn Ferguson and Lorraine Swain will their trusty gay blades to Nancy Morton and Bunny Davis.

Jack Foster leaves his little experience to Dave Schmidt, also his method of keeping Mrs. Phelan happy.

June Eley and Lois Gowen will their expert pool ability to Jim Costin.

Ron Hill leaves Dave Hinkle an honorary membership in the "Punch Drunks Anonymous Club."

Ron Kalafat leaves all his girls and troubles to Ed Boland.

Alan McKee leaves his crummy jokes to any poor soul who can stand them.

Bernie Mogstad wills his shiny shoes to Bob Black.

Lorraine Myers leaves all her credits in care of Robbie McIver in case Bill Judge wants to try another year.

Don Ogrin leaves his sheep shears to Tom Bullock in the hope that he cuts his hair.

Janis Pettyjohn leaves her battered locker to anyone who isn't particular.

Ed Ritt leaves the Rice Transport quint to anyone who wears red well.

Barb Rydell and Dolores Skovron will their column to anyone who is insane enough to want it.

Dick Shepherd leaves to any manager the Easy Washing Machine of the National Laundry

Hubert Smith leaves all his money to Phil Horning.

Bobbie Steele leaves her ability for chopping her tresses to the Bley sisters, hoping they'll put it to better use.

Lynn Taylor and Bev Blackorby leave their booth in the shop to anyone who has the time to sit in it all day.

Earl Tucker is leaving so Charlie Rowe can win the ski races next year.

Carol Vaskey and Jane Baier leave their art of confusing people to Sally Neuman and Joy Thisted.

Marlene Wardinsky leaves to Shirlee Swanson the right to do whatever she wants with the senior post.

John Misfeldt leaves—that ought to be enough.

All the members of the senior class would like to leave the fun they had in their high school daze to those students who grub away at the fundamental processes of algebra, geometry, English, and physics and come to know, as we have, that these four miraculous years are the most exhilarating and heartening fun.

Although called to the colors of their country before finishing their formal education at G. F. H. S., these boys may earn their diplomas through their own initiative and ability and will be a proud addition to the graduating class of '51.

The Montana Air National Guard was one of the many Guard units called into active duty by the President. This interferred with the graduation of many of the students of G. F. H. S. who were members of this organization, however, through efforts of their own, they were allowed to take tests that enabled them to graduate.

SPONSORS

Mr. Buck — Miss Swenson

Bursting with brains, brawn, and beauty, the Class of 1952 promises to be an outstanding senior class. With fast developing athletes, talented musicians, first-rate pen pushers, high scholastic standards, and plenty of zip and school spirit, this class presents a combination hard to beat. The super dream-sequence Junior Assembly would have been acceptable as a musical comedy on any stage, and the Junior Prom will never be forgotten.

Mr. Miller — Miss Nelson

On hand to give the Frosh a rousing welcome to Great Falls High School were the Sophomores with a very successful party. Good school spirit and co-operation were shown in them by a large participation in the Pep Club. Excellent class cooperation was shown by their outstanding assembly which demonstrated varied talents and abilities of the alert class of "53"!

Flash! Bang! What was that . . . ? Superman? The Thing? No, just one of the quieter members of the atomic-powered class of '54. These Freshmen put the spark in our school spirit by introducing the Pep Club, produced laughs even among sophisticated Seniors with their class assembly, and, for the record, came through x's, y's, and Latin verbs with flying colors. Coaches

These are the men behind the men, the unsung workers fielding our Bison teams. This year's managers were kept busy in both the tape and rub departments as well as doing all the squad's washing. Headed by Trainer Floyd Schlameus these boys deserve a lot of long overdue credit as one of the vital links in our athletic organization.

Displaying the traditional Bison fighting spirit as true sportsmen, the 1950 edition of the Thundering Herd were champions in the words of their coach, but dropped two important tilts that eliminated them from the actual Thanksgiving Day classic for the first time in three years.

Opening the season at home on September 9, the Bisons took the field against a strong Nampa, Idaho, eleven and polished off the former Idaho State Champs 19 to 6 in a hard fought fray in Memorial Stadium.

The next weekend the Bisons again played host to an out-of-state opponent. In a high scoring game that featured hard running backs and bruising line play, the Bisons outclassed a strong Casper, Wyoming, crew 30 to 12 and established themselves as one of the powerhouses of the state.

Campbell Rambles Through

Priming for their third straight home victory of the young season and the first Big Six Conference fray, the Herd proved more than ready as they dumped the tough Missoula Spartans 19 to 0 for conference victory number one. The following weekend the Buffs traveled to Havre for a non-conference tussel with the Class A Blue Ponies. Taking command from the first play of the game, the Herd smashed the Ponies 34 to 0 for victory number four, and set the stage for the big game with the Kalispell Braves the next weekend at the reservation city. On Saturday night, October 7, the Herd and the Braves met in the top clash for both teams. Both squads were undefeated to date and each wanted to add another victory to their string. The first half featured a well balanced attack with both teams playing good hard football and ended in a 6-6 tie. The next half was a different story, as the Braves went on the warpath and unleashed a powerful ground machine and trounced the baffled Bisons 27 to 6 as the revenge was complete. This put Coach Swarthout's boys back in their old spot of coming back the hard way.

The Bisons practiced hard and long the next week for their clash with the tough Butte Bulldogs, but when Coach Swede Dahlberg's boys took the field that night the Bisons were not ready and dropped the fray 15 to 0. This loss eliminated the Herd from the Turkey Day clash for the first time in three years, but their spirit and willingness were still with them as they were determined to end their season with as good a record as the two previous Championship squads. The Bisons then snapped back the next week to their old form and thumped the oft-beaten Helena Bengals 32 to 13 in a wide open clash in Memorial Stadium.

The Herd then journeyed to the Sugar City to tangle with the Billings Broncs to determine third place in the Big Six Conference. Both teams were eliminated from a chance to play in the Thanksgiving Day tilt but the old rivalry was still present as the game was to prove. In a thrill packed tussle the Bisons broke loose in the second half and stomped the Broncs 32 to 20 to grab the third spot.

With their regular conference schedule finished the Bisons prepared for their last game of the season against a powerful John Rogers High School eleven from Spokane, Washington, in Memorial Stadium the next weekend. The Herdsmen were eager to hold their unbeaten record against out of state opponents and worked hard in preparation for the clash. The game, the last for 13 Bison seniors, was played on a snowy turf which slowed both teams down. The Herd punched across a score during the first half and led 6 to 0. With hard, clean football being featured by both squads, the Pirates from Spokane matched the Bison's touchdown, and when the gun sounded ending the 1950 season the Herd had tied their first game in three years, 6 to 6. Even though this year's Bison squad failed to take the state crown, they proved that Montana football can rank with any in the nation and their season record is one of which they can be proud.

Here is the cream of the Thundering Herd who prove that a letterman can hold down a place in a scholastic league as well as in athletic competition. For membership, these boys have to maintain a better than average grade standard for three consecutive semesters, observe a strict code of training rules and be recommended by Coach Swarthout for sportsmanship.

Showing willingness to learn and never say die spirit, the 1950-51 Cinderella Bisons emerged from an average Big Sixteen Conference record to claim the runner-up position in the State finals.

Starting the season with seven returning lettermen as the nucleus, new Head Coach Dutch Dahmer molded his fighting crew into a well-balanced, high-scoring outfit for the tournament finals. Opening the season against Glasgow, the Herd beat the Scotties 41 to 39 in a slow game but gradually gained momentum during the season and ended their regular conference play with a 9 won and 9 loss record. Among accomplishments during the regular season was the reclaiming of the Ole Goat from Havre by virtue of two decisive wins over the Ponies.

Entering the Northern Division at Missoula the Bisons displayed spirited play by knocking off the Glasgow Scotties, upsetting the lanky Kalispell Braves, but were beaten by the Butte Central Maroons 51 to 47 to take second place in the tournament. Returning to the Electric City the Herd prepared for the State Tournament. Starting the tournament off against the Anaconda Copperheads the Bisons took them 67 to 53, then edged the fast Helena Bengals 54 to 51, which put them in the championship clash against the Kalispell Braves. Even though dropping the championship to the red-hot Braves 65 to 55, this Bison team showed what a little will to win and spirit can do, and will long be remembered as an example for future Bison teams to follow.

Bowling League

Darrell David—Boy's and Girl's League Secretary

Under the supervision of Rudy Scovil and sponsorship of the Great Falls Board of Recreation, eight girl's teams and five boy's teams completed a twenty-week session of bowling. The Keens placed first and the Keglerettes second in the girl's league; the Strikers and Splits placed first and second, respectively, in the boy's league. Among those winning individual honors and trophies was Frances Hall, who won high series in the girl's league. In the boy's league Gene Miller took high series with 560 and Charles Rowe bowled the highest game, 217.

Just as the Agorans of old met in the Market Place for a strumping good discussion, so the Agora Club members gather to talk over present day problems of a social, economic, political and cultural nature. Lively debates and interesting discussions ensue and after temperatures return to normal a plan of action is concluded.

The Agora members like parties too, with emphasis on square dancing, with cider and doughnuts served for refreshments.

Being philanthropists, they made abundant contributions to the CARE Campaign and other worthy school projects.

The Distributive Education Club newly organized during the Second Semester of this year has embarked on a very active career.

The club has been organized under the sponsorship of Karl Erickson from the Co-operative Part Time Training classes and plans to become affiliated with the National organization next year.

As part of their Co-op program they operate the D. E. Club store which sells all types of school supplies. At the semester's end the club held an Employer-Employee Banquet which they plan to make an annual affair.

Resolved: The People of the United States Should Reject the Welfare State.

Throughout this year the pros and cons of this question have been weighed by the Great Falls High School debaters under the sponsorship of Mr. Miller, meeting during the sixth period every day for debate practices and instruction. This year the team participated in the Northwest Regional at Logan, Utah, and in the Interscholastic meet at Missoula where last year they took third place.

There is a Freshman Debate Club which meets every Monday after school.

One of the school's most active organizations is the French Club. Each year the club sponsors the C.A.R.E. campaign to send bountiful contributions to poor and war-torn families. The $500 goal was met and topped very easily again this year.

The annual girl ask boy dance, "Bal des Mois," one of the most spectacular of the school year with Story Book dolls and varied colored streamers for decorations that turned the gym into a playland of color. Other activities of the year included the sponsorship of a French War Orphan, a Christmas party, Senior party in honor of the graduating Seniors, and a party for the Deaf and Blind School. Miss Catherine Rathman is sponsor of the group.

The Girls Athletic Association put forth a sparkling program this year. Members of the club participated in various tournaments such as ping pong, basketball, and softball. In the social line-up the gals sponsored a Harvest Ball during football season, an initiation party for the Frosh and a spring luncheon for the departing Seniors. The big event of the year was the Hawaiian Playday, to which girls from ten different schools were invited to join in sports, eats, and fun, Hawaiian style.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Jones this group had a busy and eventul year. In addition to their regularly sponsored campaign or funds and sending cards to ill G. F. H. For this show they recruited talent from the whole school and the response from both the school and the fellows at the base assured its success.

Besides promoting good sportsmanship and prompting better understanding of athletics to the students and the public, the Lettermen were very active in other activities. Donations of large sums were received by the Band, Cheer squad, and Athletic Association. The money given to the Athletic Association will be used for medical care of Bison athletes who receive injuries while participating in athletic activities. Thirty-six traveling jackets were purchased by the Lettermen who raised the money through such activities as selling programs at the Basketball tournament and sponsoring the Football programs. Some of their recreational activities are the Lettermen's Formal Ball and the annual Picnic which always proves to be successful.

Latin Club is composed of second and third year students of Latin, two Consuls and three Aediles being elected in each class. At monthly programs planned by the Aediles and presided over by the Consuls, the similarities and differences between the great civilizations of the Roman Republic and our own are shown. Students find that many things we thought had the "new look" were being done in the time of Julius Caesar and Cicero. Modern holidays are celebrated Roman-style with Latin crosswords, songs and games. Interesting reports are also made on appropriate subjects.

Library Club

These energetic girls cheerfully go about the activities of Library Club, which offers one-half credit a year. A successful school library is maintained under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Keller, whose captivating personality brightens the room.

Their various jobs of behind-the-scene work consists of ordering new books; repairing them; filing records in the card catalogues; and checking the books out to the book-worms, who create the situation that starts the process all over again. Thus, the library is kept in an eternal circle of business.

The social activities of the Club included a swimming party held February 8 at the Natatorium. Their annual Christmas Tea was held in the Library, December 18.

Stepping down from the rostrum with flying colors (blue and white, of course) the orators making up the National Forensic League have proven to be one of the high school's most progressive organizations. The up-'n'-at-'em attitude has won many of the speakers the essential 20 points to become a member of the National Organization.

Besides participating in the Western District National Forensic League Tournament at Logan, Utah, and the American Legion Oratorical Contest, the club has sponsored two after-game dances.

In the mad scramble for learning that goes on within these hallowed walls, twenty-five seniors came out on top to form the National Honor Society.

This year Mr. Edmund T. Anderson sponsored the National Honor Society, and emphasized that "Scholarship does too count."

After four years of fairly conscientious study in high school, these students have, besides their gold honor pins, the golden opportunity of higher education.

Pan American Club

To promote good will, friendship, and better understand her southern neighbors is the goal of the Pan American Club sponsored by Miss Schoenhaar. The members have given reports on Latin American countries at the bi-weekly meetings and celebrated Pan American Day with a special program. During one of their regular meetings the members were served with Brazilian mate or tea sent to the club by the National Pan American League. In addition to the sponsorship of the March of Dimes campaign and an after-game dance, the club has undertaken special projects outlined by the National Pan American League. These projects consist of two scrapbooks: One listing the Presidents of the United States and their biographies and the other describing the city of Great Falls and the community, to be sent to a Central or South American country

Without the Projectionists Club, the welcome and effective relief from the daily class humdrum might not be had by students who enjoy the effortless learning afforded them in the excellent movies shown them in every subject.

The members of this club, under the sponsorship of Arthur Roseberry, are taught all the workings of the Visual Aid Department from the projector mechanisms to the cutting and splicing of film. Always on the job, these busy guys show the pictures that keep the reputation of Great Falls High School as a leader in visual education.

"W7NVF calling . . . ," can be heard in 305 every Wednesday at 12:30, which is the official station call of the Cathode Ray Radio Club directed by Mr Parsons, popularly known as 'Pars". The club has become one of the most educational organizations of the school by offering the boys specific opportunities in radio which have netted them good jobs in the service of their country.

When a member is able to receive radio code up to the speed of 13 words a minute he is eligible to take an examination graded by the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D. C. If the test is passed the member is given a station and operator's license which grants him the privilege to own and operate a high frequency set.

The boys have also visited the transmitters of the local broadcasting stations which have helped them to better understand their own "ham" sets.

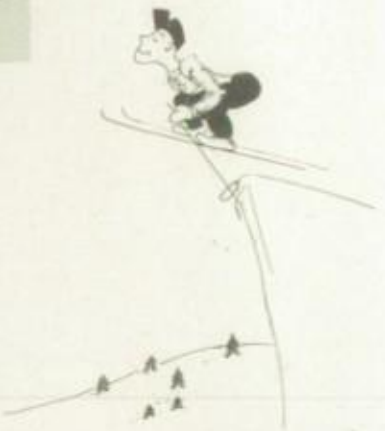
Schuss boomer



The schuss boomers of the Great Falls High School Ski Club are a group of energetic youngsters who ambitiously spend their time skiing on King's Hill. The club, which is composed of over 150 members, proved their ability as good salesmen as well as good skiers when they handled the concession at the Class C basketball tournament. They also excelled themselves on Roundup day when they sold some very tasty lunches. The funds from these money-making activities was used to send the Ski team to the State meet at Ennis where they tried very hard for honors. After the ski season was terminated the club drew things to a perfect ending by a joyous picnic at Ryan Dam.

Driver's Course

This year, under the direction of Mr. Arthur Roseberry, students learned the "smart" way to drive during their study hall periods. The course includes study of traffic laws, the operation of a car and driving. The instruction car, contributed by Seese Chevrolet, has lots of rough treatment when Mr. Roseberry has to use the extra brake and clutch or grab the steering wheel from a new student. The course ends with an official driver's test and the issuance of a driver's license for careful drivers.

The spirit of Christmas hung over Great Falls High School as the A Cappella Choir, directed by Mr. Robert Glasgow, described in song the beautiful Christmas story.

During Christmas week the Choir presented two radio broadcasts in which they sang the "Hallelujah Chorus," "The Shepherd's Story," and "Invocation" over radio stations KMON and KFBB.

Twirlers

Bigger by twenty girls than previous years, the high-stepping girls of the Great Falls High School Twirling Club and their sponsor, Miss Erickson, have worked hard to add attraction to the half-time shows for the football and basketball games, and other activities of the school. This year they have performed in the Roundup Day Parade and gave a dance which was hailed as one of the best. The club is one of the most prominent clubs of the Great Falls High School.

THE INIWA—Blackfeet Indian word for Bison, is issued bi-weekly throughout the school year by an energetic staff of Journalism I and II students. This high school paper, printed by the Tribune Company, serves as an instrument of education in promoting good community spirit and reflecting impartially the activities of the school. One primary function of the paper, never lost sight of by any of the staff workers, is that through good news coverage student readers become acquainted with the activities of the school so that they will be better citizens of the high school and community. Through its humor columns, its "dope" columns and its features, the Iniwa serves as an entertainer, and students are drawn closer together at having something in common at which to laugh.

Roundup

Staff

The Roundup Staff workers for 1951 have learned through all these months of production, of special staff meetings and organization, that there are no unimportant people connected with Great Falls High School, and no unimportant assignments to be fulfilled. With clicking typewriters, cameras, slashing paper cutters, slushing paint pots and flaring tempers, the Roundup hopes to accomplish all that is expected in the production of a good yearbook that will leave an indelible mark on the memories of all who were exposed to the influences of this educational institution.

Although the Staff worked many long hours, the book would not have been possible without the cooperation and support of the administration and the good will contributions of local merchants whose sponsorship enabled the Roundup Staff to meet rising photographic and printing costs.

It is with pride and joy that the Roundup Staff, sponsors, and faculty wish to thank all who helped make this cherished book a reality.

Lois,
Good luck and success to a real swell gal. We had alot of fun in home room and will have alot next year. (If we are both here)
